

Aug 12 (1pm)

Alissa Quart
Republic of Outsiders

Alissa Quart is the author of Republic of Outsiders, Branded, and Hothouse Kids. She has written for the New York Times Sunday Review, The Atlantic, The Atavist, the London Review of Books, New York, and many other publications and is a columnist for and contributing editor of the Columbia Journalism Review. She has taught at Columbia University's Journalism School and was a 2010 Nieman fellow at Harvard University. She lives in New York City.

Aug 19 (1pm)

Sarah Green
Ambitious Lives: Women, Men, and the Rise of Executive Feminism

Sarah Green is a senior associate editor at Harvard Business Review, where she shapes online content strategy, runs HBR's video program, and acquires and edits for the web, the magazine, and HBR Press books. She also hosts the HBR IdeaCast, which is the top management podcast on iTunes, reaching over 800,000 listeners each week, and has twice been nominated for a National Magazine Award. Previously, she was a baseball columnist for the Boston Metro and a researcher for Pulitzer-winning columnist Ellen Goodman. She graduated magna cum laude from Brown University.

CHAUTAUQUA PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Program

Chautauqua Women's Club (CWC),
1pm Monday's

Over 100 years after the creation of the Chautauqua Women's Club in 1889, we launched the Professional Women's Network in 2009. In this 21st century, where women now outnumber men (60% to 40%) among university graduates in North America and Europe, it is time to acknowledge and build on the massive economic and political impact and influence of women.

The Chautauqua Professional Women's Network will invite a sampling of illustrious women from a wide range of disciplines and professions to share their careers and passions with us. All Chautauquans are cordially invited to attend these afternoon discussion-debates and networking events every Monday at the Women's Club. Want to connect with professional women and the men and organizations interested in understanding them better? In comparing experiences across sectors, countries and generations? Join us.

The network is Chaired by Avivah Wittenberg-Cox, CEO of 20-first.com and author of How Women Mean Business (2010) and WHY Women Mean Business (2008). Anyone interested in joining her on the Steering Committee of this group, or in featuring among next year's speaker list, please contact Avivah by email.

For more information
Contact: Avivah Wittenberg-Cox
Tel. 357 0018
Email: avivah@20-first.com

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S NETWORK OF THE CHAUTAUQUA WOMEN'S CLUB

Professional Women's Network

JULY

July 1st (1pm)

Jennifer Seaman Cook
Arts, Crafts & Progress:
Women Artist-Teachers in the Western New York Arts and Crafts Movement

Jennifer Seaman Cook is a New York State Certified Teacher in Visual Arts and Italian. She completed her Masters in Art Education at the Rochester Institute of Technology and is currently a PhD student with University at Buffalo's Department of Transnational Studies. Jennifer's scholarship on the cultural history of women includes visual culture, the arts, humanities, technology and industry. Her most recent publication in Heide Hatry's book "Not A Rose" launched at the Frankfurt Book Fair and New York's MoMA PS1.

—————
July 9 (1pm)

Jane Becker
Coaching For Passion and Purpose

What is happening in the emerging field of Executive Coaching? How can you create a personal and professional vision? What is a resonant Leader and how do you bring mindfulness, hope and compassion to the workplace? What is the intentional change process and how to apply it to your life? These are some of the questions that Jane Cleaver Becker will address. Jane has more than 30 years of executive experience in the private and nonprofit worlds. She recently completed the Executive Coaching program at Case Western Reserve University and is excited to share her experiences. Jane is the wife of Tom Becker, President of Chautauqua Institution.

Jul 15 (1pm)

Kathleen M. Rehl
Widowhood: What You Need to Know NOW

Kathleen M. Rehl is the author of the award winning book, Moving Forward on Your Own: A Financial Guidebook for Widows. Dr. Rehl is a leading authority on widows and holistic financial life planning. A regular speaker to women's groups and advisors who work with women, she has been featured in The New York Times, Wall Street Journal, USA Today, AARP Bulletin, U.S. News & World Report and others. Kathleen will share her passion about empowering women to feel more secure about their financial future.

—————
Jul 22 (1pm)

Sarah Hartmann
Young Leaders in the Arts: Behind the Scenes at Chautauqua Theatre Company

Join Sarah Hartmann, Artistic Associate at Chautauqua Theatre Company and New York Theatre Director, and Stephanie Leaf, Assistant Managing Director at Chautauqua Theatre Company earning her PhD in Producing, as they discuss their differing experiences in the world of academia and performance, as well as the challenges of being young artists in the fields of directing and producing.

Jul 30 (1pm)

Davia Temin
Writing Your LIFE on SOCIAL MEDIA

Temin and Company is a boutique management consultancy focused on international reputation, risk and crisis management, and marketing, media and social media strategy. As CEO, Ms. Temin is a highly experienced reputation strategist, and serves as the spokesperson for major organizations during crisis; coaches numerous global CEOs; is a frequent public speaker; and advises corporations on the strategic direction of their women's councils. She runs and moderates popular CEO and corporate programs including, "What Boards Need to Know about Crisis Management and Social Media," "Visionary Leadership" and "Crisis Games." She has appeared as a guest on every major US network, and around the world. She writes a Forbes.com column called "Reputation Matters" and is a contributor to The Huffington Post.

AUGUST

Aug 5 (1pm)

Marta Perez
The invisible woman: Learning Strategic Networking

Lawyer and manager specialized in complex projects management (ie: IPOs, international negotiations, M&As, both in Europe and Latam) Marta has wide experience working with multinational, multidisciplinary teams. She has been General Counsel, Secretary and member of the Board of an IT listed software company, she also was appointed partner of FEGED Business Advisors in Colombia. She has incorporated a legal advisory and international business development firm, Layomba, and WoB (Women in Business), an executive education consultancy for women. She actively works for the women's professional development and currently she is the President of the Madrid branch of Business Professional Women International.

